Company Description

Established in 2010, we are a Construction Management/Engineering Service Company specializing in Heavy Civil Construction. Our primary services include CPM Project Schedule Development and Maintenance, Time Entitlement and Delay Claims, Project Acceleration Analysis, Change Order Validation and Cost Preparation as well as other core construction management services. We also provide a variety of pre-construction services such as Cost Estimating, Constructability Analysis, Quantity Take Offs and Pre-Bid Schedules.

Our Staff consists of a team of professionals who have worked as engineers, superintendents, project managers, and estimators for general contractors throughout the country, completing multiple projects in the heavy construction industry. This hands-on experience allows On Point to supply the required services to multiple contractors, designers, and owners throughout the northeast and beyond.

Job Description

As our operations have grown we are looking for an entry level Civil Engineer with 0-3 years of engineering/construction experience to join our team. This person will work with our senior level staff to provide construction project management services to our clients on multiple heavy civil and commercial construction projects. These services are offered on a project by project basis, allowing exposure and experience across our multiple services.

It is expected that this person will be trained by our senior staff and will be able to take on more and more challenging projects over time. The company has a strong promote from within sentiment and are expecting this person to grow in experience and position.

This position offers a stable living location in either or Western or Eastern Massachusetts locations. It will involve occasional travel throughout New England and New York State as well as the Mid-Atlantic Region as our footprint increase.
